Unlock Operational Excellence with Business Process Management (BPM)

Unlock Operational Excellence with Business Process Management

Customer expectations, regulatory demands, and digital disruption are evolving faster than ever. Companies must rethink and optimize their business processes to stay competitive, compliant, and responsive to change. Yet many organizations still struggle with intransparent processes, siloed operations, manual workarounds, and inconsistent process standards. The true value of BPM lies not just in process mapping, but in driving real improvements in efficiency, agility, and innovation across the enterprise.

At Nagarro, our Business Process Management (BPM) services help you overcome these challenges and transform your organization into a process-driven, future-ready business. We work with you to break down silos, create end-to-end transparency, and establish a culture of continuous improvement—using a technology-agnostic approach that works in any IT landscape. Whether you run SAP, best-of-breed solutions, or hybrid platforms, we deliver BPM tailored to your strategic goals.

Our expertise covers the entire BPM lifecycle: from initial process discovery and modeling to advanced analysis, optimization, automation, and monitoring. We leverage leading platforms like SAP Signavio, Celonis, ARIS, and more to help you unlock actionable insights, drive process excellence, and enable measurable performance gains. With proven methodologies, practical enablement, and a focus on sustainable change, we empower your teams to turn process transparency into a true competitive advantage.

From quick assessments and BPM strategy to process mining, automation, and governance, our certified consultants (BPM, SAP, Six Sigma, and more) guide you every step of the way. No matter where you start—whether digitizing core workflows or scaling process automation—we make sure your BPM journey delivers maximum value and measurable ROI.

Our Framework: BPM Standards, Best Practices & Toolchain Integration

Our consulting methodology and BPM-Framework are based on globally recognized BPM standards (such as the BPM Lifecycle, Six Core Elements, BPMN 2.0, DMN, and EPC) and is always adapted to your unique business context and technology landscape. We combine best practices from process-, organizational change-, and digital transformation management, integrating your preferred toolchain, including SAP Signavio and the SAP toolchain as well as process mining suites, workflow platforms, and more.

With this foundation, we enable:

- End-to-end process transparency and documentation

- Data-driven process analysis and continuous optimization

- Standardized governance and sustainable process culture

- Seamless integration with your IT and business architecture

- Measurable performance improvements and compliance

Ready to use BPM as a strategic success factor?
Let us work together to transform your processes into value creation – sound, measurable, and future-proof.
