

Test automation with SAP

Ensure the quality of your SAP implementations while saving time, resources, and costs.

Test automation is a crucial part of software development. It enables the automation of test activities to efficiently and reliably test software applications.

In the context of SAP systems, test automation is of particular importance because SAP applications are often complex and business critical. By automating test processes, companies can ensure the quality of their SAP implementations while saving time, resources, and costs.

In today's agile business environment, the demands for shortened release cycles and efficient use of resources and budgets are inescapable. Effective test automation allows companies to successfully meet these challenges.

Challenges

- Increasing complexity of applications
- (Integrative) tests become more complex
- Limited resources, budget, and time

Recommendation → Early integration of test automation into the test strategy

How can Test Automation help you?

- Increased efficiency: Automated testing significantly reduces manual effort, accelerates project times, and allows your teams to focus on more strategic tasks.
- Quality improvement: Consistent and repeatable automated testing leads to fewer errors and higher software quality.
- Cost savings: By minimizing manual testing hours, resources can be used more effectively with optimized budget.
- Risk reduction: Thorough test automation reduces the risk of system failures, data errors, and security breaches.
- Agility: Automation facilitates faster adoption of changes in SAP systems and helps your organization remain agile in a dynamic environment.

Test Automation Return on Investment

Example for RoI

Our team

Our team of consultants consists of highly qualified experts who have extensive experience in test automation along with using both SAP's own tools and third-party solutions.

We are aware that every company has its own requirements. This is why we develop customized test automation solutions and offer targeted recommendations for tools that are precisely tailored to your specific SAP processes and requirements.

For more about us, visit www.nagarro.com/sap

Interested?

Reach out to:

aqt@nagarro.com

Thinking Breakthroughs