What do you appreciate most about Nagarro?

I appreciate the vast talent pool and knowledge diversity that Nagarrrians has to offer. It's a company that touches on multiple facets of multiple industries and can hone and solve many challenges. We always look for a solution to a problem.

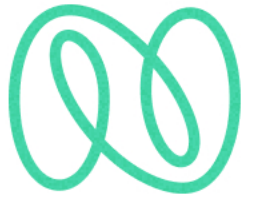

What is that one quality that has helped you along your career path?

Seeking different perspectives from a project or from people and asking many questions while also discussing how we interpret or view things. I believe it's important to explain your level of understanding to others while they bounce their perspectives off you kind of like building a collective puzzle.

What advice would you give the next generation of female leaders?

As women, we often undermine our talents and capabilities. Don't worry so much about your current lack of knowledge when tackling a new project or role. Knowledge is acquired through experiences. You won't grow unless you do.

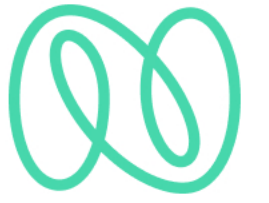

Do you feel unstoppable at Nagarro?

I feel like Nagarro is a treasure box of knowledge with many opportunities. As they say, knowledge is power. That in itself can make you feel unstoppable.
