What do you appreciate most about Nagarro?

Nagarro's open, inclusive culture allows employees to maintain a work-life balance and the company's high sense of social responsibility. Among many things in the world, it actively provides humanitarian assistance.

If you could break one stereotype, what would it be?

In general, it would be prejudice and the perception of women.

What is the one quality that has helped you along your career path?

My attitude and sense of responsibility for my work and the results I achieve.

Who is your personal role model?

Malala Yousafzai is my role model. She has made many contributions to defending women's rights to education and won the Nobel Peace Prize in 2014. Her strength and persistence inspire me a lot.
