Hi from a Nagarrian!

Dear reader,

Each edition of this mini magazine takes a little time to celebrate the recent successes Nagarro has had this quarter. Take a peek!

Among other things: at our Flo 2025 tech event, 3,500 Nagarrians, clients, and partners came together to bring our “Fluidic Intelligence” concept to life. We are developing this AI-driven approach to help our clients unlock 20% productivity gains within their core businesses. Follow us in the next couple of months as this initiative evolves and grows.

We also collaborated with Siemens to launch the X Lab in our Gurgaon premises - a collaborative space to co-create the future of industrial manufacturing.

And there’s a lot more inside - happy reading!

What's new?

Flo 2025: Into the Future

A journey that started with a gathering of senior architects and engineers, has now grown into a full-fledged conference. This September, Nagarro's flagship tech event, Flo 2025, turned our Gurugram campus into an innovation hub bringing together 3,500 Nagarrians from 30+ countries and 230 guests from 59 organizations.

Featuring 208 sessions, 118 lightning talks and 4 hackathons, Flo explored the next frontier in domains like AI agents, quantum computing, sustainability, and customer engagement.

We unveiled Nagarro's Fluidic Intelligence approach and set the tone for a future where AI and human ingenuity co-create value. This approach unites human expertise, enterprise knowledge, data insights, and AI into a seamless flow coupled with our promise to drive productivity gains for our customers.
