

Journal of a daring e-biker

The Neumanns at Lake Feuersee

I like cool surprises!

Dear diary, can I introduce myself to you? My name is Paula and I am so excited to share all my adventures with you!

Last weekend it was my birthday and something amazing happened: My parents gave me this diary and guess what?! As a gift, I also got a new bike! Yay!! 😊 I am 8 years now and this is my first 'big ladies' bike!

But do you know what's even cooler? It's not just a bike - it's an e-bike! And on top, there's something that looks like cycling glasses!??

Meet the Neumann family!

We, the Neumann family, live in Esslingen am Neckar, which is in the south of Germany, next to a city called Stuttgart. Every day, we go on all kinds of adventures in the nearby area after my friends have finished their homework.

When I'm on my bike, mom always says:

"Don't ride your bike too far by yourself! Soon we'll go together to visit your friend, Phil, at Lake Feuersee."

The calm before the ride

Finally, the day arrived! Today, it was time for the promised ride. Mom packed sandwiches, Dad took his handyman kit, and I prepped Teddy for the ride. Once everything was set, we put on our cycling glasses. We could instantly hear a lady's voice, saying:

"Good Morning, Neumanns! My name is Al-Ana, and today, I will assist you on your trip. Please enable Safe-Sightseeing and Alternative-Routes options, so we can make the best out of your e-bike ride".

My mom's eyes sparkled when she heard the word "safe"! Mom, Dad, Teddy, and myself – we put on our helmets, and the four of us started the tour. Actually, we were 5, as Al-Ana shortly became our newest tour member. She even gave me some tips on how to strap Teddy onto my e-bike!

“And to your left, you see...”

It was the perfect weather to go for an e-bike ride, and Al-Ana made the day even better. She is full of surprises: she knows all the places with the best views, has very clear about where to stop for a break, AND makes Dad happy by maintaining our schedule. At some point, we had a joint call to debate about where to stop for ice-cream.

P.S.: Of course, we all love ice cream! 😊

During the ride, Al-Ana also told us stories about the Esslinger Burg, a medieval castle and the Schelztorturm, an ancient tower and many others. We plan another tour to create a digital album for my grandparents' anniversary.

Riding at the speed of light? No!

At some point, I started wondering - how and when did I start riding so fast? I was able to cycle as quickly as Mom and Dad, can you believe that?! So, I used my Smart Cycling Glasses to challenge my family to a speed race. Just when I was about to win, I felt my e-bike softly slowing down as I heard my mom chuckling behind me. I guess she has some kind of Mother-Control-App on her e-bike, and maybe that's how she put a limit to my maximum speed. So much for riding at the speed of light...

Anyway, I feel like a superhero! I have not 1 but 2 sidekicks: one is, of course, Teddy, and then, there's my superpower-enhancer called Al-Ana.

Lazy Dad

Did I tell you that Dad was concerned about the battery? Soon after, he got a notification that his battery life is low. He had the bike had to do all the pedaling for him!

Al-Ana was fast in finding us an e-bike shop on the way. She even scheduled an appointment, based on the time we would get there! It was a 10-minute stop, and it was Wonder-Woman-Paula to the rescue: With Al-Ana's help, I instructed my dad step-by-step on how to change the battery. Once the job was completed, I earned my first "CARING" badge on the e-bike App!

Say: "Cheese!"

After so many adventures, we arrived hungry at our destination: the famous Lake Feuersee. We picked up my friend and his family, and to my surprise, they also had e-bikes! Al-Ana suggested a place where we could have lunch: on the stairs, by the lake. It! Was! Awesome!!

I got my friend Phil to hold Teddy and took a cool picture, and I shared it with all my friends instantly!

Hands on the bar!

While enjoying a full-on voice-controlled video recording, I had my hands on the handlebar of my e-bike. Also, my dad had to get onto a few work-related calls and answer some e-mails. Mom was so excited about the bike's safety functions and kept talking about it all the way home.

The sky is the limit

Oh, I almost forgot! The coolest thing ever is that Phil and I can now connect via the Smart Glasses anytime, sharing our adventures in real-time. I will see more of Phil from now on.

There's nothing my new sidekick cannot do! I should check if she can also make me pancakes when we get back home.
